DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -
(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or onsale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States

1. Claims 1- 4 and 10-16 are rejected under 3 5 U.S. C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nishioka et al. (US 5,811,851).

In re claims 1- 4 and 10-16, Nishioka et al., in related text (Col. 5, Line. 30-Col. 9, Line. 37) and figures (Figs. 7-8) disclose a microelectronic structure, comprising: a base substrate 30 at least partly composed of an insulating material 32 and formed with an opening; opening completely penetrating through insulating material 32; at least one conductive material 34 filling opening and terminating flush with insulating material 32; at least one barrier layer 46 provided over base substrate 30, at least one barrier layer including an oxygen-containing iridium layer 46 and an oxygen barrier layer 48, oxygen barrier layer being composed of one of iridium dioxide and ruthenium dioxide 48; an adhesion laver disposed between base substrate 30 and at least one barrier layer, adhesion layer 46 containing at least one material selected from the group consisting of tantalum nitride, titanium nitride, tantalum silicide nitride and tungsten silicide (See Tables 7-8 and Col. 9, Lines 20-37); a noble metal layer 38 disposed on barrier layer 48; and a high dielectric constant material layer 42 disposed on a noble metal layer 38.

2. Nishioka et al does not disclose "oxygen-containing iridium layer being a sputtered layer produceable at a temperature of at least 250°C in an atmosphere containing by volume between 2.5% and 15% of oxygen;" in claim 16. However, the limitation "a sputtered layer produceable at a temperature of at least 250°C in an atmosphere containing by volume between 2.5% and 15% of oxygen;" is taken to be a product by process limitation and consider non-limitation. In a product-by-process claim, it is the patentability of the claimed product and not of the recited process steps which must be established. Therefore, when the prior art discloses a product which reasonably appears to be identical with or only slightly different than the product claimed in a product-by process claim, a rejection based on sections 102 or 103 is fair. The Patent Office is not equipped to manufacture products by a myriad of processes put before it and then obtain prior art product and make physical comparisons therewith. In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685 (CCPA 1972). Also, a product by process claim directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See In re Fessman, 180 USPQ 324, 326 (CCPA 1974); In re Marosi et al., 218 USPQ 289, 292 (Fed. Cir. 1983); and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985), all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final structure of the product "gleaned" from the process steps, which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process. See also MPEP 211.3). Moreover, an old and obvious product produced by a new method is not a patentable product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that a "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See also In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck, 177 USPQ 523;

In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery, 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim, 191 USPQ 90 (209 USPQ 554 does not deal with this issue); In re Marosi et al, 218 USPQ 289; and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above case law makes clear.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1- 4 and 10-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
